THURSDAY MORNING, JAN. 3, 1929

A NEW DAY IS HERE

There hangs over the desk of the manager of a local firm a little frame in which is the following legend.

"Another day is here. Help us to meet the rugged requirements with cheerful faces. Give us the patience to serve faithfully and well; and at night loan to us sound and undisturbed sleep, that we may serve better tomorrow."

It sounds like a prayer, and it is. But not to the good God alone; it strikes the eye of the beholder. It touches a new note in his being. It gives him a new angle on the outside of the desk rail into a mood to do business quickly, generously and fairly. It is, also, a constant reminder to the manager himself that he sits there not so much to be served, as to serve. It is a text that both customer and employe can take to heart. It is in the last analysis the platform upon which that firm does business.

And it is a good prayer and a good platform. Service is the keynote of modern business.

"He profits most who serves best," wrote Paul Harris, of Chicago, some seventeen years ago and men in every country the world over are at this time aligned by the thousand under the banner which bears that legend.

To be sure every business man strives to make a profit. Profit is the badge of service. Dollars are the insignia of success. They, in this day and generation, are garnered by those who give to the public the best service. "Caveat emptor" the one time man of the trade world, has become so obsolete that millions do not even know what it means. Everywhere industries have come to the understanding that fair play means better business, and as a general rule they are living up to the text.

The man who sits behind the manager's desk has these things constantly before him. He knows that between men, as between classes of men, anger works madness in the brain and puts poison in the tongue. He knows that bitterness of thought and action are a weak man's argument. The weapon of the avenger has no place in his life. He strives to be a constructive force in the community. He must be a doer as well as a thinker. A mere desire to serve gets him nowhere. He actually must serve. Carnegie, Schwab, Edison, Wanamaker—all their names suggest action. The demand of business is to keep ahead of competition—to do something and do it first and profitably. After all, this is only another form of service—giving the public something better than the other fellow is offering and at a similar price, where possible.

CALENDAR TIME

While one swallow is said to make a summer, it seems to require a flock of calendars to make a new year.

These traditional harbingers of New Year's day are arriving in every mail and in their customary array of sizes, shapes and colors. They come with the compliments of the banker, baker, grocer, butcher, garage and realtor, no two of them alike in the calendarical information they purvey.

The modern free calendar is usually a piece of cardboard to which is fastened a pad with one leaf for each month and bearing, above the calendar leaves the name of the donating business concern and a rustic scene or some picture relating (often remotely) to the business it advertises. Sometimes it is a more permanent and ornate affair imprinted with a facsimile of some famous painting or contrived to provide a perpetual calendar.

Styles in calendars are as subject to change as styles in morals and petticoats, so in all this motley crew there is lacking that fancy creation with the "good old times" when there was a place for every calendar no matter how humble and a calendar on every domestic door from parlor to kitchen.

Woman Asks To Adopt 5 Babies

ASHVILLE, N. C., Dec. 29. (UP)—When one couple offered to adopt an assortment of five babies for which the juvenile court here was seeking homes, the supply of babies was less than the demand for the first time in many years.

AND THE WORST IS YET TO COME

BEAUTY

Practically all beauty experts raise their hands in horror at the mere mention of soap and water. "Keep away from it," they cry "if you would have the smooth skin of youth."

Well, perhaps so. However, I feel that a thorough cleansing with soap and water once or twice a week will not hurt any but the most sensitive skins. If your skin is inclined to dryness, use it more sparingly than if it is oily and if it is abnormally dry, avoid it altogether.

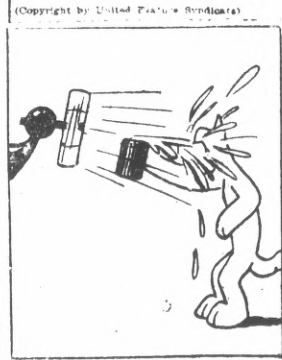

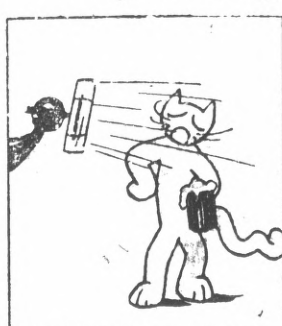

Of course, if you're going to use soap and water you must be sure to use only the very best and purest soaps together with soft water, if possible. Work a good lather into the skin with the fingertips and allow it to remain a few moments before rinsing it off. Rinse with warm water and you are sure no soap is left in the pores and then dash cold water on to the face to close up the pores and freshen the skin. (which, you know, is used to nourish and cleanse the skin. Don't neglect your skin's ardent, and protecting, cream.)

Many women scorn the idea of the beauty secret to keep away from soap and water on the grounds that it's their business to sell creams and that's one way of doing it.

This seems to be an unfounded accusation. I do think that a cream should be used as a cleansing agent most of the time except by those women who have an extremely oily skin. Even they can use the right kind of cream. It will also have a quick greasing cream to advantage but with soap and water they run no risk of drying up the skin.

England To Have Aerial Garage Soon

READING, Dec. 29.—(UP)—Believed to be the first of its kind in Great Britain, Reading is to have an aerial garage with lock-up space for private owners. It will also have a quick greasing service, repair shop, where soap and water they run no risk of drying up the skin.

Work on the lock-up hangars will be begun this month, and it is expected that the "garage" will be ready for opening in the spring. In addition a service of air-taxis will be run. There will also be a school for flying, and sight-seeing tours a la chaise-a-banc.

COLMAN, BANKY IN '2 LOVERS' ON SCREEN

It is almost comically clear to the Richmond audience that the film of "Two Lovers" is a masterpiece of the screen. WAR THRILLS ABOUND IN PICTURE

With the coming of "The Big Parade" to the Richmond theater the combat thrills of 1917-1918 when America joined the war, are revived.

The doughboys, the officers, the tremendous mass push through the Argonne, the hand-to-hand fighting that cleaned out enemy trenches and machine gun nests, have been reproduced, not like the war propaganda pictures of that period, but in the intimate realism of the later ten years' view. It is the doughboy's story—his, and the story of the girl back of the lines who also drank of war's dead end.

Laurence Stallone wrote it. Kirk Vidor directed it.

John Gilbert as Jim A. person "mopping up" the German nest shows a frenzy that only those who have lost a "buddy" in battle can know. Bull O'Hara, the other surviving "buddy" cries out "D—n this war! They cheer us when we leave, and cheer us when we return, but what's it all about?"

Another extremely able assistant was Renee Adoree, playing the part of Meisande, the French girl. Miss Adoree, helped suggest they may details of the quiet French farmstead and the mannerisms and actions of the natives who came in contact with the doughboys.

The spectacular parts of the picture were carried out under the direction of Brigadier General Paul B. Malone and Colonel Harry H. L. Ay. They were among the officers commanding in the Argonne push and the Second Division unit, in the muck war, re-lived the Argonne experience over again.

"The Big Parade" has been provided with an elaborate score by David Mendoza and William Axt. And along with their original composition they haven't forgotten to bring back many of the catchy war tunes.

THE HOME TOWNERS

BY JOHN LEARY PELTRET
FROM WARNER BROS. ALL TALKING VITAPHONE PICTURE
BASED ON THE COMEDY BY GEORGE M. COHAN

SYNOPSIS—Arnold invites Bancroft to be best man and bring his wife. Bancroft becomes suspicious of motives of fiancée and family. Says so and causes row. Results in breaking engagement. Arnold and the home towners go out to entertain themselves.

CHAPTER IX

DURING the time that Arnold and the Bancrofts are trying to take their minds off the mess by going to the theatre, Beth's family persuade her to go to a concert for the same purpose. She entrusts Wally with her wedding gift, a valuable bracelet, to be returned to Arnold. Wally puts Roberts on his train and goes to Arnold's. They are out. Wally says that he will wait for Arnold.

THEN Wally learns that the Bancrofts are staying there. Wally does not want to meet them. He telephones his sister and decides to give the jewel case to the butler for Arnold. Just as he starts to go the others return. Wally tells Arnold he has left a package for him and the butler will deliver it. Bancroft asks Wally to let him explain and clear up the situation.

AS a result of this plea Wally tells Bancroft just what he thinks of him. He says he is narrow-minded, bigoted and a dangerous man who, like most home town folks, think the city fellows a lot of thieves, slickers, robbers, and that Bancroft will go back and boast to the gang how he routed the city gold-diggers. This off his chest Wally goes on his way.

AS Wally pulls his rave Bancroft looks at him pathetically. When the door slams, Arnold and Mrs. Bancroft go to him and try to comfort him. Bancroft says Wally was right. Mrs. Bancroft says she has heard enough for one night; has to get up early in the morning; will leave her pig-headed husband, and go to bed, promising to say a prayer for them all at church next day.

STATE BANKS IN LEAD WITH DEPOSITS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 02.—With the acquisition of $150,461,000 in the deposits of 13 national banks taken over by the Bank of America of California, our state banks have a lead of $39,343,000 over the national banks, according to figures compiled by Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Banks.

"On Oct. 3, 1928, total deposits reported by the national banks of this state were $1,853,559,000, while state banks reported $1,591,973,000. With the change from the national system to the state system of the 13 banks recently enumerated by the newspapers, the deposits of state banks now total $1,742,438,000 and the national $1,703,094,000."

The same change brought from the national system to the state $8,841,000 in capital and surplus, and $166,700,000 in total assets Wood states.

"For the first time since the nationalization of the Bank of Italy with its $600,000,000 in assets, the Pacific-Southwest and the Citizens Trust and Savings bank, shortly after the passage of the McFadden-Pepper Act, which liberalized the national banking law, the state banks in point of resources are on a parity with the national banks in California."

THE HOME TOWNERS

BY JOHN LEARY PELTRET
FROM WARNER BROS. ALL TALKING VITAPHONE PICTURE
BASED ON THE COMEDY BY GEORGE M. COHAN

SYNOPSIS—Arnold invites Bancroft to be best man and bring his wife. Bancroft becomes suspicious of motives of fiancée and family. Says so and causes row. Results in breaking engagement. Arnold and the home towners go out to entertain themselves.

CHAPTER IX

DURING the time that Arnold and the Bancrofts are trying to take their minds off the mess by going to the theatre, Beth's family persuade her to go to a concert for the same purpose. She entrusts Wally with her wedding gift, a valuable bracelet, to be returned to Arnold. Wally puts Roberts on his train and goes to Arnold's. They are out. Wally says that he will wait for Arnold.

THEN Wally learns that the Bancrofts are staying there. Wally does not want to meet them. He telephones his sister and decides to give the jewel case to the butler for Arnold. Just as he starts to go the others return. Wally tells Arnold he has left a package for him and the butler will deliver it. Bancroft asks Wally to let him explain and clear up the situation.

AS a result of this plea Wally tells Bancroft just what he thinks of him. He says he is narrow-minded, bigoted and a dangerous man who, like most home town folks, think the city fellows a lot of thieves, slickers, robbers, and that Bancroft will go back and boast to the gang how he routed the city gold-diggers. This off his chest Wally goes on his way.

AS Wally pulls his rave Bancroft looks at him pathetically. When the door slams, Arnold and Mrs. Bancroft go to him and try to comfort him. Bancroft says Wally was right. Mrs. Bancroft says she has heard enough for one night; has to get up early in the morning; will leave her pig-headed husband, and go to bed, promising to say a prayer for them all at church next day.

WOMAN MUST HANG FOR SLAYING

BATON ROUGE, Jan. 2.—(U.P.)—Gov. H. P. Long refused tonight to commute the sentence of Ad. Bonner LeBoeuf and Dr. Thomas E. Dreher, and they will hang Saturday afternoon for the murder of the woman's husband.

In the declining to extend executive clemency as recommended by the state board of pardons, the last hope of the doomed pair apparently vanished. Mrs. LeBoeuf will be the first white woman to be hanged in the history of Louisiana.

Governor Long reviewed the case in a 12 page statement and declared that he was not sure what part Jim Beadle, trapper, companion of Dr. Dreher who is now serving a life sentence for participation in the killing, played in the murder, but that he felt certain that Mrs. LeBoeuf and Dr. Dreher were the real murderers.

"I have in my lifetime, had no cause to review a record showing such marks of gruesome murder, and I am sure that the state surplus, of which the law, of re- with the

The LeBoeuf murder occurred in Morgan City, La., in July 1927.

HASH POPULAR WITH FERRY USERS

Fifty tons of corned beef hash is a lot of hash.

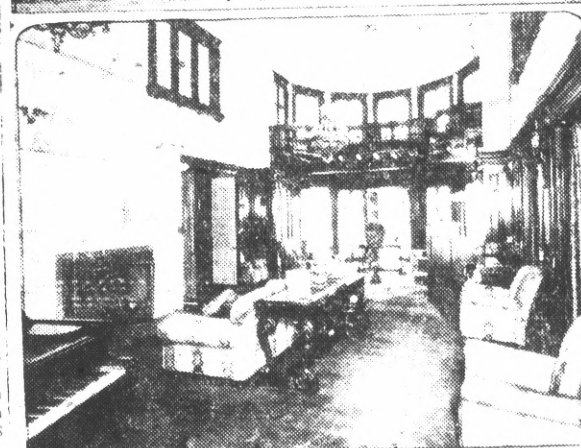

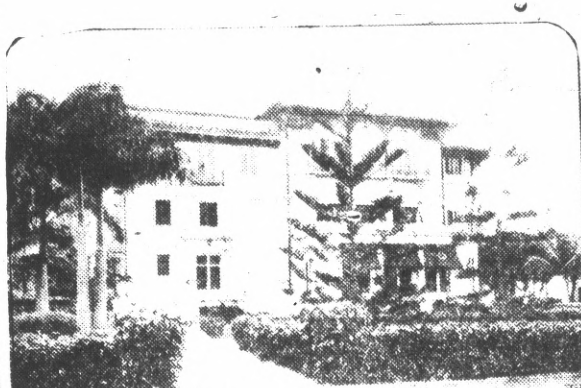

During the past year Key System commuters have consumed better than 113,000 pounds of corned beef hash and corned beef hash retains its supremacy another year as the most popular dish with Key commuters, according to C. C. Vargas, vice president of the transit company.

Next in popularity, Vargas says, is apple pie. Over 180,000 pounds having been disposed of by ferry boat epicures during 1928. "It is interesting to note the somewhat staggering figures," Vargas says, "of foodstuffs consumed by our commuter-patrons during the course of a year. For example, during 1928, over 25,000 pounds of coffee were used; 4,000 pounds of sugar, 18,000 pounds of butter, 113,328 quarts of milk. Even the lowest bean received recognition, 4317 pounds being used. Tomatoes, 19,056 pounds; 14,999 pounds of flour and over 55,000 pounds of meat, exclusive of corned beef. Fish sets a record at 8797 pounds consumed. The midweek prize receives honorable mention having recorded 21,218 pounds used. Cream chowder was popular at 14,733 quarts consumed as against all other soups at 75,615 quarts. Much is still a great breakfast dish with Key System commuters; 77,068 pounds is its record. Of the bread, suets, emuls and doughnuts ran a close race for first place; 209,532 pounds, doughnuts, 209,532 pounds, muffins, 209,532 pounds. Bread itself, without any disguise, takes with a consumption record of 22,758 pounds. The sweet tooth of the commuter was in evidence. Over 30,000 pounds of cake were used and better than two tons of cup cakes.

RIEGELS' RUN AROUSING COMMENT

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 2 (UP).—The niche baseball holds for Fred Merkle, football has been awarded to Roy Riegels.

Merkle, one time New York Giant first baseman, failed to touch second one day and the mistake gave the Chicago Cubs a National League pennant.

Riegels, center and captain-elect of California ran in the wrong direction and his error gave Georgia Tech a mythical national championship and a victory over his own team.

Merkle, generally conceded to be a toxy baseball player, went into the record as "Merklehead". Merkle, Riegels, known as one of the coast's outstanding line-men, always will be recalled as the "guy who scored two points for the team he was opposing."

Hot Debate

Tonight, more than 24 hours after the episode, Southern California newspapers devoted columns to Riegels and his name was heard in every gathering. Thousands and thousands of times it was asked how the California center, playing a whole of a defensive game against Tech, cost his team a victory in the annual New Year's Tournament of Roses football game.

Riegels picked up a Tech fumble and dashed 66 yards toward his own goal line. The play led to a safety for Tech and the points deriving from the safety measured the Golden Tornado's 8 to 7 win over the Golden Bear.

Play Described

The play in question started on the Tech 23 yard line where Thompson bobbled the ball when he was tackled after a ten yard advance.

Riegels came out of a pile of men with the ball, collided with two Tech players, took four steps toward the Tech goal line and then, after pivoting to avoid a tackle, turned and ran toward his own goal.

Straight down the side of the field he went with Lom, a teammate striding after him but 15 yards behind. Lom gradually closed the gap as Riegels neared the goal line. Lom's warning shouts were drowned in the roar from the 70,000 who packed the Rose Bowl.

Lom Stops Him

Just as Riegels passed over the line, Lom grabbed him by the sweater and turned him around. Attempting to amend for the situation, Riegels started back field but Lom pulled him back and pulled Riegels with the ball on California's one foot line.

On the next play Lom's kick was blocked. A California man recovered behind the goal line and the play went for a safety and two points for Tech.

Riegels, whose home is in Oakland, was heart-broken tonight. He knew his error cost his team victory and attempts of teammates and his coach to console him were futile.

Riegels Heartbroken

His general attitude was summed up when Barney Oldfield failed to get his name during an introduction.

"Never mind the name," Riegels said, "I'm just the guy who ran the wrong way in the New Year's game."

"I didn't realize that it was wrong until Lom tugged at my jersey," he said. "I wasn't hurt or dazed and there is no alibi I can offer. I haven't any idea how I got directions confused."

"I felt terrible when I discovered the mistake and I feel worse now. I guess I'll never live it down. I hate to think it spoiled

School nurse says
all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking Nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when Nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless. It works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS
PRESSED BY MY QUICK RECOVERY

San Jose, Cal.
Nov. 13, 1928
To Whom It May Concern: For some time past I suffered with nervous attacks similar to those of St. Vitus. My speech was so affected that I could scarcely make myself understood. My heart Herbiast best fast and healthy. I tried every method of healing known to me in vain. Then I was recommended to try the Fong Wan Herbs. Now, after but two weeks of that treatment, I am completely well.

My friends and neighbors as well as the men who formerly treated me are all surprised at my recovery in almost no time. All inquiries as to whose skill has brought me such wonderful and quick relief.

(Signed) JOSEPHINE DOMINGUEZ
(Attested by her mother, Mrs. Anna Dominguez, 615 Emery St., San Jose, Cal.)

People who wish to learn more about Fong Wan's knowledge of herbs and methods of healing should get his new book free at his office or mailed to any address upon receipt of the postage.

THE HEART OF RICHMOND

For appraisal purposes, land values radiate from Macdonald Avenue and Tenth Street, as the present maximum value is at this point.

The reason is, because of its accessibility to and from our residential and manufacturing districts. The development of our inner harbor and the Ford plant, with many prospective industries, will make Macdonald Avenue and Tenth Street, for many years to come, the HEART OF RICHMOND.

We are offering today the southwest corner of Barrett Avenue and Ninth Street, within 1 block of the new Montgomery Ward Building and 3 blocks of Macdonald Avenue and Tenth Street, at a price, that within a few years, will net you a handsome return on your investment.
